RENO. WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1878.

NO. 59.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Jacob Vilinger, who murdered his wife, was acquitted on the 4th at Chicago on the ground of insanity.

John O'Connor, an ex-member of the Ohio legislature, has been convicted at Cincinnati of perjury.

Wade Hampton is now out of danger and rapidly recovering.

It is reported that Charley Ross has been found again—this time in Bradford county, Penn.

Nonsasi, who attempted to kill the King of Spain, has been granted a new trial.

The body of St. Francis Xavier was exposed in the cathedral at Goa yesterday amid much religious enthusiasm.

A Canadian loan of £3,000,000 has been placed on the London market.

The will of William Henry Palmer, better known as Robert Heller, is being probated in New York.

The strike of coasting seamen at San Francisco has ended in a victory for the strikers.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5th.—Gen. Lew Wallace has been appointed governor of New Mexico.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephen's yesterday, while ascending the stone steps leading into the House, on crutches, slipped and fell, causing a painful wrench of the knee, which will probably confine him to his room for several days.

Senator Sargent, as soon as he recovers from his present illness, will go to New Hampshire.

Ex-Senator Gwin, of California, is said to be a candidate to succeed Gwinham as secretary of the senate.

The present session of congress is expected to be a dull one, as the Democrats are not disposed to talk over the little unpleasantness in the South.

Supervising Architect Hill, was yesterday afternoon suspended by a peremptory order of the President, pending his trial on the indictments found in Chicago. Secretary Sherman was averse to this action, but the President was firm that an indicted man should not have access to and the records on which his guilt depended.

The Potter committee will meet next Tuesday.

The Afghans Defeated.

LAHORE, Dec. 5th.—General Roberts telegraphs from Peiwar Khotal, under date of 3d, as follows: During the night of Dec. 1st, the Afghan position was turned by a flank march over Spengwai pass. We surprised the enemy at daybreak of the 2d, when the Seventy-second Highlanders and Fifth Gurkha's drove the Afghans from several positions. They afterward endeavored to reach Peiwar Khotal, but the assault could not be delivered on that side. We then threatened the enemy in the rear and attacked and carried Peiwar Khotal about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The enemy had on the previous evening received reinforcements of four regiments. They fought desperately. Their artillery was well served. Their defeat, however, was complete. We captured eighteen guns and a large quantity of ammunition. Our loss was moderate, considering the number of our opponents and the difficult nature of the country. Major Anderson, of the Pioneers, was killed. General Cobbe and Lieut. Monroe, of the Seventy-second Highlanders, were wounded. Our men behaved admirably. We shall move toward Shatargarden pass on Thursday the 5th.

Butler and Kearney.

The World has an editorial on Butler's letter to a California friend, wherein it says: It is not likely Butler paid Kearney for making speeches or asked for his help during the canvass, since the patronage of Kearney was undoubtedly an injury, and not an assistance; but neither is it fair to assume that the Republicans hired the agitator, even though his efforts tended toward their advantage. The indications are that he was actually an independent power for mischief. The mistake in political tactics which Butler made was that he undertook to study Kearney carefully with a view of employing him, and when he found how dangerous the connection might become, it was too late to avoid the consequences of his preliminary conference. If Kearney's speeches cost Butler thousands of votes, the fault lies in himself. He should have made the Californian a comrade or an enemy. There was an appearance of playing fast and loose about his conduct which was disastrous. Let him confess his folly like a man.

Secretary Sherman and the Gold Clique.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Secretary Sherman's order to the assistant treasurer, which was foreshadowed in your specials, to issue no more gold certificates, is working with great satisfaction to the friends of resumption. Those who want to hold must henceforth guard it for themselves, and as after January 1, New York, Philadelphia and Boston banks will decline to hold gold on special deposit, would-be gold speculators are anticipated and disarmed so completely that it is not believed that they can embarrass resumption in the least degree.

Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, December 5.—Dick Moore and Jim Burns, two pugilists fought fifteen rounds last night, which lasted two hours and ten minutes, at a liquor saloon on West Thirteenth street. Both men were badly punished. Moore was the victor.

CONGRSS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5th.—The Vice-President announced as a special committee on yellow fever investigation, Harris, Mathews, Lamar, Paddeick, Conover, Garland and Huston.

Morrill submitted a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of deposits in the treasury to the credit of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company; whether interest should be allowed thereon; the expense of the commission to settle up the affairs of that company and what legislation is necessary to close up the affairs of the company and have the commissioners retire. He said he understood the commissioners were willing to retire, but not to do so under the law. In his opinion the original managers of the institution could have been criminally persecuted. The resolution was agreed to.

The following changes in the standing committees were made by unanimous consent:

Eaton to retire from the committee on appropriations; Wallace to take his place. Morgan to retire from the committee on patents; Eaton to take his place. Wallace to retire from the committee on foreign relations; Morgan to take his place.

After executive session the senate adjourned till Monday.

The strike of coasting seamen at San Francisco has ended in a victory for the strikers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"A people," says the Eureka Sentinel, with much determination, "who insist that their bones shall be returned to their native land are not proper subjects to enjoy the inestimable privileges of citizenship under our free institutions." Amen to that. None better than we knew the misery which is caused on the Pacific coast by this selfish and heathenish custom of the Chinese. What a blessing to the poor those bones would be were they allowed to remain here! How many households now want-pinned and desolate might be cheered and filled with plenty if they had but the sweet knowledge that the bones of successfully brickbatted Chinamen were not to be dug up and exported. There is no buncombe written on this Chinese question.

Why mention such a trifle? The New York exquisite of the Sun (as Deacon Parkinson would say), perhaps never saw a quiet Pacific coaster in full dress. In addition to the pistols referred to, each heel of the boot is supplied with a gaff. The vest has a sheath opening at the back of the neck for a bowie knife and there is also a sheath down each leg of his pantaloons for a rapier. Giant powder cartridges serve for buttons and he carries a hand grenade in his hat. A poisoned ring graces his little finger and when out for an evening stroll he has a set of brass knuckles on each hand. Citizens out here frequently drag a cannon after them when they are collecting bills. It is only in the elegant ease of the parlor that the trusty repeating rifle is laid aside.

If this doesn't make Deacon Parkinson solid at home and draw a vail over those little slips which he mourns, but, like the rest of the inferior sex, constantly makes, we know nothing of lovely woman's nature:

"Woman is foolishly termed the weaker vessel. It is a sad misnomer, for the average woman is far the superior of the average man, mentally and otherwise. In danger she is calmer and more determined; in time of sickness or trouble she is more self-possessed; in point of virtuous sentiment she is infinitely man's superior, and with an equal amount of education generally surpasses man as a scholar."

The Comstock newspaper reporter positively likes to tell about having been snubbed by a millionaire. This gem is taken from the Gold Hill News:

Reporter—Mr. Mackay, have you a few minutes for me this morning?

Mackay (frowningly) — No, sir; I haven't. I'm very busy.

This reminds one of the man who boasted that the king had spoken to him. "What did he say to you?" asked an envious subject. "He said," was the proud reply, "he said, 'Get out of the way, you blackguard.'"

The Carson Tribune the other day indulged in volunteer mendacity to the extent of saying that the Gazette neglected current news. In reply the Gazette called attention to the interesting fact that if the Tribune man would glance at that issue of the Gazette he would find about two columns of Carson news which the stupid Tribune had failed to get. Now the Tribune slow-coach is wroth and calls the Gazette a "blow-hard."

George Thistleton, editor of the San Francisco Jolly Giant, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the Los Angeles county jail for libel. The Jolly Giant, a boastful, stupid and grossly personal sheet, is a disgrace to the Pacific coast and Thistleton himself is a drunken blackguard. A jail is the proper place for him and it is to the credit of California that he is seldom out of one.

In the State of New York Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, if a woman marries a man who has already, unknown to her, a wife still living, this second wife's children can inherit their father's property equally with the children of the real wife, which shows that justice and common sense are not always lost sight of by law.

Wanted—By the people of Adio and vicinity, a first-class, sober and industrious tailor. We know of no better location in the country for such a business than right here in Adio. Exchanges please note this fact.—Adio (Modoc Co.) Hawkeye.

The scoundrel, drunken and independed tailor of Adio will now probably wish he had given the Hawkeye man a little tick when he wanted it.

If ever any set of men stood in crying need of a good thrashing our Democratic brethren of South Carolina are the fellows. They ought to be whipped and whipped well. A few million volunteers would be pleased to respond to an invitation to administer the corrective belting.

Boots are made on the Pacific coast with pockets for pistols in their tops. —N. Y. Sun.

Who will be the legislative patriot to introduce a bill for the remission of the sins of the bonanza firm in respect of the penalty for tardy payment of taxes?

"It is asserted that a horse died in Rochester, New York, at the ripe age of forty-five years and six months." That may be old for a horse, but many an ass lives longer, remarks the vain forty-niner who does the Brevity column for the Alta.

The total election returns from five eastern and four western states show that the Greenbackers cast 605,000 votes; Democrats, 1,570,000; Republicans, 1,761,900.

The workingmen of the Pacific coast are exceptionally intelligent and well informed.—Times Review.

And Dennis Kearney is the flower of the exceptional intelligence and superior information.

Loafers are getting scarce in Tuscarora.—Times Review.

What do they do with it after getting it?

Kearney has overlooked one crushing burden borne by the workingmen. The duty on tigers in this country is $75 each.

Scientists have now discovered that farinaceous food will remove all desire for alcoholic stimulants. The warning is timely.

Ore that is Worth a Dollar a Pound.

[Silver State, Wednesday.] Southern Humboldt is not disposed to yield the palm for rich ores to the mines north of the railroad. Yesterday two teams arrived here from the Gilbert mine, which is situated in the mountains south of Bolivia district, with eighty sacks of ore, probably the richest ever found in the county. Assays of one lot of ore, consisting of fourteen sacks, show that it is worth on an average one dollar per pound. As soon as teams can be procured, another lot will be sent here—sufficient to make a car load.

The mine which produces this ore was discovered about a year ago by C. W. Gilbert, who has been engaged in prospecting and mining in the southern part of the county for several years. He did not know the value of the mine until this fall when he commenced developing it and discovered that from the grass roots down as far as prospected it contains ore that averages $500 per ton in silver.

A Goody-Good Government.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.] It is to be "goody-good" government in Canada, now. The Marquis of Lorne, who comes to Canada to represent his royal mother-in-law, is a nice, quiet, so-soish young man, given to poetry and "culchah," who will never keep a pack of hounds and r'ee a sycophant chase into the affections of the Canuckers, like Lord Dufferin has. Then, as for the love-lorn Louise, she is a pleasant, social little body, with an aptitude for water-colors and cream meringues; but, unlike Victoria's other girls, destitute of style, and totally unlike Lady Dufferin, who could sit up all night in the house of parliament, and sing "God Save the Queen" with the best of them. The Sunday school cause will be revived across our northern border, but they won't have half as much fun.

Blaine and the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Democrats in their caucus were much troubled over the course to pursue in regard to the Blaine resolution. There was a general disinclination to enter upon debate with the Republicans. It was finally agreed to propose an amendment extending the alleged interference in the election by federal supervisors in New York, in Cincinnati and by factory owners of New England. The Republicans will probably make no objection to this, but their intention expressed in caucus on the matter if carried out, would put the question at issue fairly before the country.

A Well Worn Pass.

[Virginia Stage.] Deacon Parkinson was in town night before last, gorgeously arrayed in a plug hat, attending the Pioneers' meeting. The old gent visits our city so often that we keep a personal notice of his arrival standing in type; but somehow or other the darned thing got pied lately, which caused this important item to be kept from the public a day longer than it should have been. The Deacon's R. R. pass is evidently looking the worse for wear.

Strange Accident.

UKIAH, Dec. 5.—A son of Phillip Howell, aged 7 years, was kicked in the forehead by a horse on Tuesday last, and a piece of bone, an inch wide and two inches long, cut clear and could not be found, leaving the brain exposed with but slight shock to that organ. Dr. E. W. King dressed the wound and has strong hopes of the recovery of the little fellow.

A FEMALE DEVIL.
Shocking Treatment of an Aged Husband.

(San Jose Mercury, Dec. 4th.)

There is an old man at present at the infirmary whose name is Dillon, whose case presents the opportunity for the bestowal of a great deal of sympathy. Mr. Dillon was at one time possessed of a very neat property on the Alameda, and opened Bush street. About six years ago he married and the woman at once commenced a system of prosecution to force him to transfer all of his property to her. Being aged and decripit he was obliged to accede to a great degree and did give her almost his entire property, whereupon she at once turned him out of doors and forced him to seek shelter in the infirmary. The exposure of her treachery and cruelty by the Mercury induced her to take the poor old man home again, where he had remained until lately, when she shipped him to San Francisco where he was taken to a charitable institution and kept until the facts concerning him were discovered, when he was sent back. A few days ago he again appeared at the infirmary and with tears streaming down his aged cheeks pleaded to be taken in, saying that the woman whom he calls wife had beaten and abused him as to make life intolerable, and ended by turning him into the street. He stated that she had been the last remnant of his means, and he had no where else to go. He is now at the infirmary, and cries and pleads with childish fervor to be allowed to remain whenever mention is made of his leaving. The board of supervisors has considered the matter, but no action has been taken in the premises, though we are informed that measures will be taken to oblige this heartless scoundrel of humanity to restore to him his property and to prevent her again acquiring any interest therein. She now has a bank account of a few thousand dollars (so says Mr. Dillon), and a large and valuable lot and house on the Alameda.

Curious Contempt Case.

Murder very often brings men before the bar of a court for trial and sentence. But it very rarely brings them into contempt of court. Warren Tate was recently fined $10,000 by Judge Burns, in the supreme court of Indianapolis for the murder of Wm. Love. Love had given evidence in suit to which Tate was a party. After Love had left the stand he walked into the corridor. He and Tate quarreled over his testimony. Tate ended the matter by shooting Love, who died in a few hours. Judge Burns at once issued a rule against the murderer, telling him to appear and answer why he should not be fined for contempt. His answer was unsatisfactory, and the judge fined him $10,000. His honor said that witnesses are brought into court by compulsory process. They are often put to great inconvenience. They are under the protection of the court. The murder of a witness in the presence and hearing of the court is an aggravated contempt of the authority of the court, and he would therefore make the punishment exemplary.

Oh, of course, a [Hollister Enterprise.]

A Hollister grocer, who has a little time to study human nature and who would have saved money, if he only had a little more time, wrote note to several parties selected for the occasion to the effect that he had lost his account book and must depend on their honor to call and give in the balance against them. One of them replied that he presumed that he owed $3 or $4 when the books showed that he undoubtedly owed $28; another thought that there might be a balance against him, though he had been very careful to pay cash down, and yet his account was $14. Out of twelve or fourteen customers the grocer found one who replied that he owed $3 80, being 50 cents too much. He then wrote to each that he had found his book and sent statement of account, and as they dropped into the store one at a time, each laughed, shook hands and remarked: I knew it was one of your jokes, of course, and so I thought I'd give you a chance to play it clear through."
